

One

Musher Wins Iditarod 2017

Mitch Seavey was the first musher to Nome this year. Mitch finished the race in 8 days, 3 hours, 40 minutes, and 13 seconds. He is the oldest musher to win the Iditarod at the age of 57. Mitch also won the Iditarod in 2004 and 2013. He has a total of 15 top ten finishes and has completed the race 23 times. Mitch's father and three sons (Dallas, Danny, and Tyrell) have all completed the Iditarod.

