

Iditarod

Final Magazine Project

For this project you will create an information magazine all about the Iditarod. You will include articles, pictures, graphs, diagrams, and more. Below is a list of required articles and text features you must include.

You will write at least 4 different types of articles about the Iditarod (or a topic related to the Iditarod).

Compare & Contrast: _____

Example: Compare and Contrast Alaska and your home state

Description: _____

Example: Describe what a sled looks like

Persuasive: _____

Example: Persuade a friend to watch the start of the Iditarod with you

Problem & Solution: _____

Example: Explain what would happen if you went 50 miles in the wrong direction

You must include the following text features:

- 3 pictures
- Captions for each picture
- Timeline or Map
- Glossary (5 words)
- Types of Print (bold, italics, etc.)

Front & Back Covers:

Front Cover: Include a picture, the name of your magazine, and short captions of articles the reader will find inside.

Back Cover: Create an activity for the reader to complete such as a quiz, crossword puzzle, etc.

Advertisement: Include at least one advertisement in your magazine.

Name _____ Date _____ Grade _____

Iditarod

Final Magazine Project

Compare & Contrast: _____

Student described how two subjects are alike. Then described how they are different.

1                                      2                                      3                                      4                                      5

Description: _____

Student describes a topic using strong adjectives and vivid language. Student may have picture to help enhance the description.

1                                      2                                      3                                      4                                      5

Persuasive: _____

Student clearly states their opinion and uses details to support their opinion, while trying to convince their audience to agree with them.

1                                      2                                      3                                      4                                      5

Problem & Solution: _____

Student states and describes a problem, and lists possible solutions to the problem.

1                                      2                                      3                                      4                                      5

You must include the following text features:

- 3 pictures are included
0            1            2            3
- Captions for each picture
0            1            2            3
- Timeline or Map
0            2            4
- Glossary (5 words)
0            1            2            3            4            5
- Types of Print (bold, italics, etc.)
0            2            4
- Advertisement (at least 1)
0            2            4

Front & Back Covers:

Front Cover: Include a picture, the name of your magazine, and short captions of articles the reader will find inside.

0            2            4            6

Back Cover: Create an activity for the reader to complete such as a quiz, crossword puzzle, etc.

0            2            4            6

Spelling:

0            2            4

Capitalization:

0            2            4

Grammar:

0            2            4

Total Points:
_____ / 67
Grade:
Comments:

Credits:

